Location/Access

Burra is a pastoral centre and historic tourist town in the mid-north of South Australia. It lies east of the Clare Valley in the Bald Hills range, part of the northern Mount Lofty Ranges, and on Burra Creek. The town began as a single company mining township that, by 1851, was a set of townships (company, private and government-owned) collectively known as "The Burra". Pastoral and agricultural activities are predominant in the area. Burra township is one of the best-preserved towns of the Victorian era in Australia and as such is a historic tourist area situated approx. 160 km north of Adelaide.

Leisure & Well-Being

Burra Health Service caters for residents from diverse cultural backgrounds and our Lifestyle Program is designed to celebrate this diversity. Our adaptive and flexible program is also tailored to the needs of residents with dementia and other health issues.

Burra Health Service is strongly grounded in their local community. Our staff, residents and volunteers participate in a range of local community events. For those residents who are unable to participate outside of the facility, there are activities provided at the site.
